

What are Workshops?

Tutorpedia offers small-group, project-based workshops for 6th-12th grade students. Workshops are mini-units and typically involve 6-12 students, last 12-20 hours, and stretch 2-6 weeks. Choose from 30+ fun and engaging workshops where students build essential skills, work collaboratively with peers, and cultivate positive habits of mind in an extracurricular environment. Every workshop culminates in a final project or performance that students share with parents, friends, and their community.

Tutorpedia Workshops are:

Real.

Students make, perform, or accomplish something tangible they can show to their family and friends.

Relevant.

Students actively construct their understanding and skills through projects that interest them.

Rigorous.

Tutors create challenging curricula they are passionate about and expert in teaching.

Relational.

Enrollment is kept small to build strong student-tutor relationships.
